MAINTENANCE, INSPECTION, AND TESTING

Explosion protection audit

Our team of safety experts takes care of the initial and recurring audits of your plants, as required by law pursuant to Operational Safety Directive.

The Operational Safety Directive (BetrSichV) mandates that a qualified person must audit ATEX plants with respect to electrical and non-electrical explosion protection.
In preparation thereof, we will comprehensively advise you about the explosion protection audits and will perform these audits on your behalf. Leverage our expertise and our persons qualified pursuant to BetrSichV.

Our services:

- Develop audit principles
- Initial explosion protection audit, e.g. prior to commissioning, following a change of location or other significant parameters, in ATEX zones
- Recurring audit for safe conditions in ATEX zones
- Workstation audits prior to first use in ATEX zones
- Legally certain documentation
