PROCESS RELIABILITY

Public address systems

"Imagine there is a fire and nobody runs for the exits" – you should heed this saying among firemen. Prompt alarm notifications in the event of a fire or emergency can save lives. Allow us to assist you in the development of a matching solution.

Simple audio alarms may not always suffice. By using voice alarm notification systems and/or alarm messages at computer workstations, you can positively inform all affected persons and initiate the correct actions. We offer a broad spectrum ranging from systems for individual buildings to mobile solutions for exterior plants, and even for complex networked industrial installations.

Our services:

- Plan, install, and operate public address systems
- Integrate public address systems into hazard management systems (HMS)
