GENDORF IT Security Awareness

Do you know where your data are located?

Having this knowledge would certainly be advantageous to avoid being served with an unexpected letter from the district attorney – or possibly worse: a takeover offer from your largest competitor who just "adapted" your latest product idea. Awareness about how to handle data sensibly is an acquired skill. We attempt to convey this sensibility for working with your data appropriately.

Our services:

- Introduce a customized awareness program
- Develop a security requirements analysis and a corresponding action plan
