IT BUILDING SECURITY

Access control systems

Access control gives you the ability to control access based on a specified policy so that only authorized persons gain access to the parts of buildings or grounds for which they are approved.

Our specialists define authorization limits, overlay technical control systems based on identity records, and in this manner develop an optimized solution based on your input to unambiguously answer the "who, when, whereto" questions.

Our services:

- Plan, install, operate access control systems
- Integrate access control systems into hazard management systems (HMS)
