

Future-proof plant planning & erection

CONSTRUCTION MANAGEMENT

Senior construction management

Our experienced project managers and construction project managers coordinate the individual trade supervisors and functional trades and handle the overall construction site organization, even on complex construction sites.

Our experienced construction project superintendents or project managers for plant construction implement the planning documentation at the construction site. They provide overall construction management by relying on their extensive managerial experience at complex construction sites and their wide-ranging interface know-how to the participating functional trades.

Our services:

- Schedule coordination
- Cost monitoring
- Quality management
- Construction site safety
